

Presentation Request Form

ARC is a nonprofit organization that shares autism presentations with community groups, organizations, and businesses. These presentations are offered on a voluntary donation basis to help cover our costs for research, materials, and our presenters' time. Any donation, big or small, is greatly appreciated, as each presentation costs an average of $400 to deliver.

To ensure the sustainability of our presentations, we recommend a minimum donation of $200. Education and advocacy are important to us. If this donation creates a barrier for you, please let us know, and we will gladly work with you to accommodate your needs. Presentations outside of the Regina area may require additional travel costs.

Please read the presentation descriptions and choose the one that best meets your current needs.

Name of Organization: _____

Contact Name: _____

Email: _____ Phone: _____

Address of Event: _____

Proposed Dates & Time _____

Estimated in Attendance: _____

Intended Audience: _____

Average Autism Knowledge of Audience:

Please choose one of the following options:

Understanding Autism

Increase your understanding of autism and explore the many strengths within the autistic community. This presentation will explore practical applications for universal design and neuro-affirming practices you can use to foster inclusion and encourage a culture of respect for neurodiversity. (1-hour)

Learning objectives will cover:

- Strengths based overview of autism
- Sensory processing
- Executive Function
- Creating safe, inclusive communities
- Information on ARC's programs & Services

Autism & Neurodiversity In The Workplace

In today's rapidly evolving workforce, embracing neurodiversity isn't just a choice, it's a strategic imperative. Using neurodiversity-affirming framework and the principles of universal design, this presentation offers insight into effective methods to make the workplace more inclusive for autistic employees. (1.5 hours)

Learning objectives will cover:

- Overview of autism & neurodiversity
- Innovative inclusive hiring strategies
- Easy & effective methods to increase inclusivity
- Universal Design
- Information on ARC's employer services

Presentation Request Form

The Autism Resource Centre Connecting Communities

We are a non-profit organization that aims to meet the evolving needs of the autistic community through our pillars of collaboration, inclusion and education. We also work with many local businesses and organizations and may have a program, support or service that can help you. (Length Varies)

Learning objectives will cover:

- The history of ARC
- Programs and services for different communities businesses and organizations
- Mutually beneficial collaboration opportunities

RWA

Explore Untapped Potential

Ready Willing and Able (RWA) is a federal initiative that is exclusively focused on successfully connecting businesses with skilled employees while providing individualized assistance to the employer. In today's business environment the difference between success and failure lies in the talent and diverse skill set of your workforce. There is an untapped workforce of capable, reliable, autistic adults that can help address your current labour needs. (1-hour)

Learning objectives will cover:

- The history of RWA
- Strategies on building an inclusive workplace
- The proven benefits of partnership
- Overview of free job supports & resources

Thank you for considering ARC's presentations for your team or event!
We would happily discuss any other topics you may be interested in.
Return form to info@autismsk.com